

JStengel Consulting Announces Fall Watchguard Training Schedule

April 20, 2009

We are pleased to announce our Watchguard Training schedule for the rest of 2009 is set. We have listened to customer feedback and made our classes at convenient times of the month.

Additionally we are announcing a fall training "Outing". Students who register for the class the week of October 19, 2009 will receive 2 complimentary tickets to the NASCAR Bank of America 500 at Lowes Motor Speedway on October 17th. This is a great opportunity for students who are coming in from out of state to check out the local area, see a race and get some terrific Watchguard Training. The only requirement is that registrations must be received and paid by October 5, 2009. After that we won't be able to guarantee tickets to the event. We will try to make an attempt for students who register late, however.

Please keep an eye on our site for any dates we add between now and the end of the year. As always we can provide onsite training for individualized company training or for larger groups.
