

JStengel Consulting Announces Training Discount

September 21, 2009

In response to our clients concerns we have arranged to reduce pricing on all WatchGuard Training classes from now until the first of the year. Customers wishing to take advantage of this special offer can register for any class currently on the schedule. All prices are on the website.

We hope this helps our clients accomplish their training goals and make their business more secure.

Here are the classes currently on the schedule.
